MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 17, 1859.

The of the most ridiculous and alarm ing susions which serve the minds of Matte ers in there days, seems to be to have their daughters " well married." as the expresent goes, and to secure them " an (settle-liment," We know that many discipliners, many fair and lovely creatures. are sorely perplexed and turmented by anbit ous and anoiting mathers, who are wisbry to better away the good-looks, the y meet and the loveliness of their daughtris for the sake of securing husbands who can boast of wealth, in a measure regardless of what may be the character of these men, or, at all events, without considering whether there is an adaptation of character and a sympathy of souls between the two. This is fearfully wrong ; and those who suppose that woman's mind is als thed with the one idea of being marrici, and seeming on establishment, are stringery mistaken, and thus show that tion in not comprehend the generality of volume a character. That there are many or this kind we do not pretend to deay; but that all are so, wo do say that the assequences in cross libel on the sex. No wearin should be married, except to the man of her choice, and then not until both thoroughly understand each other; the lifest of a woman's marrying a man if ale respects him only, and then harning to love him after the hely officiace is contracted, is unnatural and wicked; and often induces the worst consequences. Yet the spirit of the age is progressive, and ten many mothers are ever restless until they have accomplished this one wild desire, and secured for their daughters u fine establishment, no matter whether the man is worthy of the daughter, whether ; not be will chetish her purely and tendealy as she deserves, or whether he has SISSULAR ANAGAZIATION .- A friend laft at our office, a law days since, what may be considered, so far as our knowledge extends, a production peculiar to Minnesota. We understand this species of production is not uncoramon in the viently of Point Douglass, where this was found.
